

AudioPass

Mobile PKI for All Platforms

With the prevalence of smart phones mobile banking and payment is becoming increasingly popular. A user friendly interface, a convenient self-service banking platform, access anytime and anywhere; these are the factors that distinguish FEITIAN AudioPass and position it a cut above the rest of this competitive application market.

AudioPass is a highly usable and secure transaction signing device developed for the smart phone. It works with mobile banking applications through the standard 3.5mm headphone jack to provide digital signature to secure transactions and protect customer accounts.

FEITIAN's flexible banking token options offers complete solution for all user types at all levels, which encourages user acceptance and considerably reduces IT costs and the fixed costs associated with token hardware.
